

What people are saying on their blogs about Rob Christian robchristianjazz.ca

“...we were literally blown away by the talent, especially by the sax work of 17 years old Rob Christian... make note of the name as his star will likely be rising.”

<http://www.canuckaudiomart.com/forum/viewtopic.php?t=5152>

“And I don’t know if I would label Rob Christian as a prodigy as much as a virtuoso! The albums are great, and I still can’t get over the fact he’s only 16 ... I’m pretty impressed, especially given how driven and focused a young man is in this type of music vs. goofing off somewhere in an arcade (and having his bike seat stolen - ha ha ha). And another interesting tidbit about the album, Rob plays the alto, tenor AND soprano saxophones, in addition to the flute (very interesting to hear a flute as the leading wind instrument in jazz music).”

<http://www.smaku.com/?p=338>

“Don't be fooled but this young, "amateurish-looking" guy in Hawaiian shorts playing the sax is actually a jazz pro and he has his own jazz band under his name, Rob Christian. I was literally stopped on my tracks when I heard this young man play catchy, intricate jazz maneuvers on his sax. And he also plays flute, as well ... They managed to "captivate" me for 4 full songs before I could let go and move on to another band. This guy is indeed going places and, at 16, he's got lots of time to do it. Samples of his music can be heard at his website under CD Ordering – www.robchristianjazz.ca”

<http://blog.360.yahoo.com/blog-UG8J5NQwd6PLdtWuXofZWp870Q--?cq=1&p=90>

“This weekend, I went to the Beaches Jazz Festival with a few friends..... Then there was Rob Christian, who looked way too young to be as amazing as he was. Seriously, the kid is 15 years old and is one of the better saxophonists and/or flautists that I've heard. Crazy.”

<http://episodeone.blogspot.com/2005/07/yay-for-jazz-and-beaches-stupid-is-as.html>

“...and here of course in his own flesh Rob Christian of Rob Christian Trio (now a quartet)...the boy's what, like 15 and his flute is truly something.”

<http://www.livejournal.com/users/isitraining/18869.html>

“...A memorable time had by all.... Highlight - this 15 year old kid playing the sax who was bloody incredible. He was in a trio, and what blew our socks off was when he picked up the flute and continued his awesomeness. ...”

<http://the-sax-contraption.blogspot.com/2005/07/home-at-last.html>

“I went to the Beaches Jazz festival yesterday. It was OK...a bit on the hot side and there were too many people for my taste. What saved the evening and was the highlight for me was when we ran into a young kid on the saxophone and flute, 15 year old Rob Christian: He was really, really good.”

<http://derricklee.com/blog/archives/2005/07/jazz-prodigy/>

“...His name is Rob Christian and he's the most amazing sax and flute player I've heard in a long time. It occurred to me as I was watching him that he looked kind of young, but then a lot of people look young these days. ;-) Then he finished playing and he walked past the sound board and said "Mom, I'm just going for a coke." to the lady standing beside me. Turns out he's fifteen. What a prodigy. I bought his CD and played it all the way home.”

<http://annedehaas.blogspot.com/2005/07/his-name-is-rob-christian-and-hes-most.html>

“...rachel told me about this prodigy jazz player that would be here this year so wouldn't you know it as we were walking I heard this really great sax-a-ma-phone... as we got closer i couldn't see who it was... darn tall people... but eventually with some wiggling i got a glimps... it was the kid! and he was not what i had imagined at all.. he was actually not your stereotypical band geek or some off-kilter jazz kat... he was a cool normal teenager with board shorts and surfer shaggy blond hair. so me and all my friends started joking around about how set he is with the ladies when he grows up! haha. heck he must be beating them off with a stick now! we were all joking around like "ohh don't you wish you were 14 years old right now?" hahaha

http://gyllenhaalic.blogspot.com/2005/07/jazz-fest-weekend_25.html